

For 81 years, Smith and Kernke Funeral Directors have been committed to serving our community. We promise to continue every service we offer to the greatest extent allowed during the COVID-19 outbreak while keeping our staff and community safe. To mourn a loss in the middle of such a challenging time is a tremendous burden. To those families who find themselves in that situation, it remains our mission to help you say goodbye in the most healthy and complete way possible. As always, our staff is here to support you, whatever your situation.

For the safety and health of the families we serve, Smith and Kernke funeral home is offering the following changes to our usual practices:

- We recommend that all funeral arrangements be made by phone or online. We are able to handle everything we need remotely so that, for your own safety, you don't have to make an additional trip into our offices. Please call us at 405-302-0021 with questions or need to make arrangements.
- For the safety of all, we must limit funeral services to only 10 people. We have installed a live streaming service with private access that can be shared with anyone who would normally be attending the funeral. There will be no additional charge for this service.
- As always, our website is available to leave condolence messages for families.

If you have any questions about how best to navigate a loss or make decisions in the current situation, please don't hesitate to contact us at 405-302-0021. It would be our great honor to serve you.

Sincerely,
Todd Kernke
